REFUNDING MENTORSHIP

By Tigeh

Costco:

Important:

- Read everything at least twice to undertand
- After you've read make a list with all your questions and drop them in my DMs

Things you must know about Costco:

- reps (their workers) cannot see previous chats / previous calls

- they cannot see why did you called them in the past

- they cannot start an investigation without your agreement

- they cannot close your account when refunding multiple orders

- they need supervisor agreement to do any move on your account

#1 METHOD (unlimited $$$$$$)

1. Order anything from Costco
2. Wait for order to get shipped
3. Start a return (some items don't have return button so you will have to call their customer support and ask for supervisor help, he will issue the labels within minutes)
4. Edit the label with version 4 or version 5 (both work)
5. Ship it (envelope is needed)
6. Within some hours they will scan it and refund will be issued

#2 METHOD (extra method)

1. Order anything under $250
2. Claim DNA
3. Refund within 1 minute

PRIVATE FAKE TRACKING IDS:

FTID version 4:

This is where you use single side print flyers with an advertisement on it and place the label(ftid3 label) on the other side (withoud ad)

- typically you would only use this for international orders so it gets through customs quicker or if you needed faster shipping with say budget shipping labels

- often reffered to as 'advanced' FTID version 3, but its not really I only use this for international orders

FTID version 5:

Theres like 10 different versions of FTID5 but here is the barcode method:

- Use a barcode generator and add your tracking number to it then replace on label

- create a QR code holding a similar or unreadable tracking number

- it's completely unnessacary to use this method unless you are doing a fake return

FTID version 5.5:

fake return: this is where you send an item of a similar weight and you are sending it to the actual company

- its rare that this is required typically you only do this if you suck and fail a refund and a FTID or just FTID

FTID version 6:

Get your label.

Attach to parcel.

Proceed to beat the living fucking shit out of the Parcel.

Send beaten up empty parcel.

Courier will notice the parcel looks like shit and will investigate it further to find out its empty.

Box will be thrown away.

FTID version 7 (THE MOST PRIVATE THING EVER)

Get the label

Remove address to their warehouse

Get a transparent ink that gets removed automatically in less than 48 hours

Write with the ink their warehouse address

Send the parcel

Warehouse address will be vanished when the courier will try to deliver and it will mark the package as lost in transit.

You can use FTID v7 on multiple creative ways:

- copy the bar code with the invisible ink that gets removed in 48 hours

- copy the customer address with the invisible ink that gets removed in 48 hours

You didn't understand how OP is version 7 and why is kept that private?

- With FTID version 7 you can make the parcel vanish, so LIT will be the best with v7 or in case you want the package to get delivered, do not write their address with the transparent ink and write the scan code.

Pretty sure you got it already, will be hard first time, but after that... trust me... I personally SE'd lots of products with this. So I can confirm it works on Dell, Hp, Asus and other providers.

Keep v7 private and do not ask boxers to do it for you, since most if not all boxers know only about v1 to v6 without v7. So you are lucky you are reading this.

THANKS FOR PURCHASING!
